STIFFER PENALTIES FOR EXCESSIVE SPEEDING

Every year, speeding on Québec roads kills approximately 175 people and injures almost 9,000 others.

Even if you are a skilled driver at the wheel of a good vehicle, you cannot go over the speed limit without increasing the risk of accident to yourself and other road users. No one can.

Speeding increases:

- stopping distance;
- the severity of impacts.

Speeding reduces:

- a driver's ability to control the vehicle in curves;
- a driver's field of vision.

Speeding is always risky!

To reduce the number of accidents and improve road safety, stiffer penalties have been introduced to put the brakes on excessive speeding.

REFERENCE PERIOD: 10 YEARS

Since April 1, 2008, if you are convicted of excessive speeding, the offence is taken into consideration for the subsequent 10 years. This means that if you commit one or more excessive speeding offences within ten years after your conviction, you will receive stiffer penalties.

WHAT IS EXCESSIVE SPEEDING?

You are committing an excessive speeding offence if you exceed the speed limit:

- by 40 km/h or more in a zone of 60 km/h or less;
- by 50 km/h or more in a zone of more than 60 km/h but not more than 90 km/h;
- by 60 km/h or more in a zone of 100 km/h or more.

DRIVING RECORD

As with any other offence committed under the Highway Safety Code, demerit points for excessive speeding remain on your driving record for two years following a conviction or payment of a fine. It is worth noting that payment of a fine is equivalent to a conviction.
